

UTILITY BOX STREET ART WALKING TOUR

www.earthisland.org/streetsalive

EXPLORING THE URBAN LANDSCAPE

Streets Alive! is an initiative of Earth Island Institute, working towards restoring our urban areas through works of public art. Through partnerships built between the community, local artists, and businesses. Streets Alive! works to use art as a medium in which to communicate issues of sustainability, education, and cultural diversity.

With this map, you are ready to lead your own walking tour of the Streets Alive! Project. Take a walk and see local buildings, landscapes, and works of art on utility boxes. Enjoy the talent of local artists and the beauty of our public space!

Refer to the map and numbers to locate the boxes. On each box, you can find and scan a QR code with a smart phone. You will be linked to more information about the piece of art and the local artist. The entire walk, with 25 boxes, takes about two hours. Bring some water and a friend to enjoy the art. You can also do a portion of the walk and finish the rest another day. Enjoy!

Send a picture with your favorite box to streetsalive@earthisland.org & tell us what you think!
